The Vetting Invitation Form and Good Repute Declaration Form must be completed and submitted, even if there are no convictions or infringements to declare.

► Vetting Invitation Form

Garda Vetting is now carried out by means of an online eVetting process. The completed Vetting Invitation Form is submitted with this application to RTOL Unit, and an e-mail from evetting.donotreply@garda.ie is then sent to the individual's e-mail address containing a link to an online Garda Vetting Application Form. The individual must then use the link to access and complete the electronic Garda Vetting Application Form and submit it online. Garda Vetting is used to collect information on whether an individual has a criminal record resulting from Garda prosecution. In accordance with Section 2 of the National Vetting Bureau (Children & Vulnerable Persons) Act 2012, a Criminal Record means a record of the person's convictions, whether within or outside the State, for any criminal offence, together with any ancillary or consequential orders made pursuant to the convictions concerned, or a record of any prosecutions pending against the person, whether within or outside the State, for any criminal offences, or both. Therefore, persons must declare all convictions and any pending prosecutions when completing the eVetting process.

► The Good Repute Declaration Form

The Good Repute Declaration Form is used to collect information on:

- i) All infringements, either in the Republic of Ireland or outside the State (an infringement imposes a penalty without a Court appearance, e.g. a prohibition, on-the-spot fine, fixed penalty, penalty points etc.); and
- ii) Any convictions not resulting from Garda prosecution, either in the Republic of Ireland or outside the State (examples include convictions by Revenue, the Road Safety Authority, the Workplace Relations Commission, etc.).
